What is CD Structural Plywood?

CD Structural Plywood is a grade primarily for use in visual applications where the end use is to be seen. CD Structural Plywood has been manufactured by Arauco.

CD Structural Plywood has the superior grade of CD which results in no open face knotholes and no more than 8 wood patches with limited synthetic repairs on the face. It is a reasonably clean face veneer with any defects filled and finished with 150 grit sanding on the face veneer and 100 on the back veneer.

The product is identified with a blue stripe down the middle of the short edges of the panel.

The perfect grade for use in the following applications:

- Concrete framework to a F3 Standard NZS 3114-1987
- Under roof decking, soffit linings, wall linings and ceiling linings
- Plywood box beams or signage
- General industrial applications, furniture, bracing, flooring, mobile homes, boat industry fittings.
